Yesterday little Margaret O'Brien went out gave them a big autographed picture of her and talked to them.

Mr. Ladd went around the ward, speaking to each of the patients and asking questions about their illness. His wife had a little pile of pictures of him which he gave to the children and he signed each

721 Wounded Captives Return to England

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The hospital ship Letitia is expected to arrive at Liverpool today with 721 wounded repatriated prisoners of war from Germany—the first group of a total of 1,861 Allied soldiers in the process of being exchanged.

In addition, 770 will be repatriated shortly followed by 370 more who are now in a hospital in Switzerland and who will leave from Marseilles for the Middle East.

One said, "Take it easy, fellows, the Yanks are here."

Another hauled a Yank prisoner from the floor saying, "We got this place, pal."

Couldn't Believe It Was True. It all happened so quickly most of them couldn't believe it was true. But the feeling was echoed by a British officer who said, "Boy, these Rangers sure showed us American power."

Back at the 92d evacuation hospital the dream gradually became real as they were given medical care, toilet articles and showers.

The captives gradually relaxed as they realized they were not dreaming, but were actually free men again.

They lined up for supper of boned chicken, peas, beans, fruit salad, jam and cocoa—a veritable banquet after the starvation fare of the Japanese prison camp.
